Mr Yap @ ECON Medicare Centre (Choa Chu Kang)

Mr Yap was admitted to ECON Medicare Centre, Choa Chu Kang branch after undergoing surgery for an head injury from an unfortunate accident in April 2012.

Upon admission, he was on PEG-feeding and showed symptoms such as weakness in all four limbs, low state of consciousness and having a lot of phlegm.

Mr Yap then began his acupuncture treatments twice a week with Senior Physician Ong Chwee Ting.

Within a year, his phlegm gradually reduced. He began to start on a diet of blended food, while his limb muscles strengthened and progressed well with physiotherapy sessions.

He became more alert and showed improvements in his speech and memory, by gradually recalling the names of his visitors. His pronunciation became clearer and he was also answering questions spontaneously and logically.

Thereafter, he continued with acupuncture treatments twice a week to strengthen muscular functions, which was especially needed for his left limbs.

In May 2013, he could walk using a walking frame with assistance.

In July 2013, he became emotional and temperamental, declining acupuncture treatment when he was moody. Acupoints to calm his mental state were included by Physician Ong and his conditions improved.

By September 2013, Mr Yap was able to feed himself. He could move about with a walking frame more independently over longer distances with minimal guidance from staff.

Presently, Mr Yap is able to consume a full diet meal by himself and is able to walk independently with confidence and stability. He still undergoes his acupuncture treatments and continues to show improvements.
